Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because continuity information should appear in the first sentence of the specification (37 CFR 1.78). Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 47-51, 57-58, 97-101, 107-108, 145-146, 151-159 and 163 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Burns et al. (US 2001/0014103) in view of Berstis (US 6,182,122).

2. Regarding claims 47-51, 57-58, 97-101, 107-108, 145-146, 151-159 and 163, Burns discloses an apparatus (fig. 2) that transmits content organized into channels (para. 32, lines 5-11), where a channel's content includes several URL data items (para. 44, lines 1-4). The apparatus comprises a means for scheduling the assembling of a channel's content (fig. 4, step 118), means for assembling the channels content according to the schedule (fig. 4, step 122). However, Burns does not disclose multicasting the packets and receiving usage reports from the receivers. Berstis discloses multicasting packets to several receivers (fig. 1; col. 12, lines 23-33) and receiving usage reports from each receiver (col. 7, lines 18-19), where the usage reports identified which URL data items were accessed from the receiver's memory (col. 7, lines 35-38). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to multicast content and receive usage reports in the invention of Burns in order to provide an end user faster access to the web (Berstis, col. 2, lines 43-54).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 52-56, 59-63, 102-106, 109-113, 147-148-150, 160-162, 164-165, are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
